ANNOUNCEMENT.

---

THE ANNUAL COURSE [OF LECTURES for the session of 1849-50, will commence on Monday, the 15th of October, and continue sixteen weeks.

FEES.—Ticket of seven chairs each, $10—$70

Matriculation, paid once only, $5

Dissecting Ticket $5

Graduation Fee, $20

Clinical instruction in the College Dispensary, free.

A credit of twelve months will be given for the Professors tickets, if payment is secured by an approved note, bearing interest. A deduction of one dollar on each ticket, will be made to those who pay in advance.

Good boarding, with room, fuel, lights, and attendance, can be had in Chicago, at from $2.00 to $2.25 per week.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION. Three years study and two courses of lectures, one of which must be in this institution, (or four years practice in lieu of one course). The candidate must have taken the Dissecting Ticket once; be 21 years of age; of good moral character; must present a thesis, on some medical subject, of his own composition, and in his own hand writing, which shall be approved by the Faculty, and pass a satisfactory examination on all the branches taught in this College.

TO THE PROFESSION.

It will be observed that the course of lectures for the session of 1849-50, commences on Monday, October 15th, about two weeks earlier than usual. This change has been made to secure to students the benefits of good roads at the opening and closing of the lecture term.

The number of Professors has been increased to seven and the course of lectures will be thorough and complete.

The means of instruction, in the different departments, consist of Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, specimens of Materia Medica, Anatomical and Pathological specimens, Surgical, and Obstetrical instruments, &c., which are yearly being made more extensive and perfect.

The anatomical rooms are spacious and convenient, and abundantly supplied with materiel, affording advantages for acquiring practical knowledge, not surpassed by any other institution in the country.

The Chair of the Principles and Practice of Medicine has been filled by the appointment of Dr. Thomas Spencer, recently Professor of the same branch in the Medical School at Geneva, New York. His efforts in building up, and sustaining that school, during the period of its growth and greatest prosperity, as well as his general character as a practitioner, writer and teacher, are well known. It may be added that he is familiar with the various forms of "Malarious" diseases, from observations in the Western States, as well as in the district of his former practice.

The Chair of Physiology and Pathology has been filled by the election of Dr. N. S. Davis, late editor of the New York Annalist, distinguished for his prize essays, and valuable papers in Medical Periodicals. He was the originator of a plan for a National Association, whose influence in the cause of reform and improvement, has already been beneficially felt. His acquirements in the branches comprised in his chair are of the highest order.

The population of Chicago, numbering over 23,000, is sufficient to afford abundant means of clinical instruction in medicine and surgery. The following cases and operations brought before the classes during the last two sessions, will afford satisfactory evidence on this head.

SECOND VOLUME OF THE

NORTH-WESTERN

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL JOURNAL.

EDITED BY

JOHN EVANS, M. D.

Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, in Rush
Medical College.

AND EDWIN G. MEEK, M. D.

This work, as heretofore, will be issued simultaneously at Chicago, Illinois, and Indianapolis, Indiana, on the first of every other month, beginning with May, in numbers, each containing from 88 to 96 pages, making, at the end of the year, a volume of about 550 pages, octavo, with title page and index complete.

As the list of contributors to the work is annually increasing, it may be expected to furnish as good a variety of interesting original matter as any work of the kind in the country. The diseases of the west will claim especial attention.

Contributions to our pages, especially from physicians of the North-west, are earnestly solicited.

TERMS.—Two DOLLARS per annum, in advance, which may be paid to any of our authorized agents, or sent to us by mail at our risk, directed (post paid) "North-Western Medical and Surgical Journal, Chicago, Ills. If payment be delayed until the close of the volume, three dollars will be invariably charged. No subscription received for less than an entire volume.

 Subscribers to the present volume who will remit three dollars, will receive the back numbers of the first volume, a few copies of which are still on hand. They can thus render their sets complete.

A list of receipts will be published in each number.

Travelling Agents, Messrs. John M. Phipps, and W. W. R. Woodbury.
